SECOND CROSSING
FOR MANY VETERANS

Live In Sturdy Huts Al-

Lease-Lend Plan

By RICE YAHNER

WITH THE AEF IN NORTHERN IRELAND, Jan. 27.—Sea-weary
United States soldiers—vanguard
of a second AEF—worked the kinks
out of cramped muscles today in camps constructed by American technicians who have been working here for eight months.

In good spirits after an uneventful Atlantic crossing under the protecting guns of the U. S. and British navies, the troops—several thousand strong—found everything
in readiness to receive them when they landed yesterday amid cheers
and martial music.

In Sturdy Quarters
The billets to which they were whisked away by train and motor transport were no makeshift affairs. On the contrary their quarters proved to be sturdy insulated
huts, erected of pre-fabricated parts brought from the United States and designed especially to withstand the cold and frequent rains of northern Ireland.

The construction work was carried out under the Lease-Lend Act.

While the setting was new, the wartime crossing of the Atlantic and the debarkation were an old story to many of the officers and non-commissioned officers, who landed on these shores nearly 25
years ago as members of AEF number one.

Mingled with the World War veterans and seasoned regular army men were numerous draftees. All were fresh from southern maneuvers which had hardened and welded them into a single fighting
unit.

Censorship forbids mentioning
the size of the unit or its identity, but the official announcement
issued in London said it included
"several thousand men of an infantry division."

"They are combat troops with the usual components of field artillery," the statement added.

The contingent is commanded by 32-year-old Major General Russell
P. Fittes.

Critical British, Irish and American officials who watched the troops land spoke highly of their equipment.

"You are impressive examples
of American military might," declared Sir Archibald Sinclair, British minister.

RATIONING HEADS
WILL MEET FRIDAY

Columbiana county rationing
board chairman will meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the courthouse at Lisbon, John T. Burns of Salem, state rationing administrator for the county, announced.

Twenty-seven different rationing
boards have been organized in the county.

The meeting has been called for the primary purpose of assigning the rationing duties for the various communities for the month of February. Columbiana county itself has been allotted 52 passenger tires and 44 tubes for the coming month, in addition to 120 truck tires and 205
tubes.

Burns said that a general discussion of future rationing programs probably would develop at the meeting. He has received answers from the Office of Production Management to several specific questions which were asked by the county ration board members.

FUNDS NEEDED
BY RED CROSS

Mercy Organization's Work
In Many Fields Is Increased

Terming the growing responsibilities of the American Red Cross
a challenge to America, Chairman E.
S. Dawson declared today that support of the $10,000 war fund appeal, Salem's quota, should be backed 100% by the residents of Salem.

"Immediate response to the Red Cross war fund is needed to provide relief for civilian populations bombed from their homes by the Japanese, and for those under the threat of enemy action in the Pacific war
emergency or upon the continent
of the United States," he said.

Equally important are the funds
needed for the work of the Red Cross for the men of the armed forces.

"Not all can be in the armed forces, and not all can volunteer their services for humanitarian
work, but all can volunteer their dollars to arm the Red Cross to be their representative at the scene of battle and distress.

"Today is the day to demonstrate
our high morale, our unity, our determination not alone to support
our President and our fighting men
at the front, but also to insure to our wounded, homeless and suffering fellow citizens in our Pacific islands that we stand one hundred per cent ready to aid them through the Red Cross."

Uncle Sam Tells Junk Yards
To Move Steel Within Month

"Auto Graveyards" Must Yield Jalopy Skeletons, Or Government Will Step In and Take Them

(By Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, Jan. 27.—"Automobile
graveyards" must yield jalopy
skeletons for steel mill furnace cremation within 30 days or Uncle Sam will make them do it, junk
dealers in four states were warned
today.

Unless the precious scrap metal
moves to open hearth furnaces,
mill workers, backed by orders from Uncle Sam, will remove it, junk dealers in the Cincinnati area were told by visiting representatives of the Bureau of Industrial Conservation
today.

The official visit—made here in an army car—was part of a two-day
test drive by which the government seeks to learn how much of the nation's scrap steel can be got from junk dealers for mills by persuasion and how much must be taken by pressure.

DUTCH DOWN
CAPITAL SHIP
IN MACASSAR

Japan Loses Second Heavy
Battleship At Hands
Of Allies

FIRST BLASTED BY
CAPT. COLIN KELLY

Tokyo Timetable, Perhaps Future Program, Believed Upset

(By Associated Press)
BATAVIA, Jan. 27.—A heavy Japanese warship sunk in the first day of Japan's disastrous effort to run the Strait of Macassar was identified tentatively today as a battleship in a Dutch recapitulation of the enemy's losses.

This would raise Japan's toll to two capital ships so far. The first was the Battleship Haruna, sunk by Capt. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., off the Philippines in the first days of the war.

A special Dutch communiqué Friday said a "large warship," together with two cruisers and a transport, suffered direct hits with 660-pound bombs when Dutch fliers attacked the Japanese convoy. It is this "large warship" that now is believed to be a battleship.

Three-day Summary
The summary by authoritative sources said that in three days of a running Dutch-American air and sea assault on a great Japanese convoy in the narrow waters between the islands of Borneo and Celebes 28 enemy ships were sunk
or heavily damaged and 13 warplanes downed.

"By now it has become clear,"
informed observers told Aneta, the Netherlands Indies news agency,
"that the heavy blows struck at the enemy have certainly upset his timetable and perhaps his future
strategy."

"Tokyo will now realize how great are the risks of naval operations in this archipelago and may consider it necessary to revise its plans."

There still was no indication of the original size of the convoy, but observers expressed belief that the Japanese must have lost a considerable part of their effective strength.

FARMER SUCCUMBS
ON HUNTING PARTY

Ambrose Baird, 48, taxidermist
and farmer, of R. D. 4, Salem, died suddenly of a heart attack, it is believed, while hunting with a party
of friends near his home at 11:15
p. m. Monday.

A lifelong resident of this vicinity
he was born Aug. 8, 1893, in Green
township, the son of Lucy and Charles F. Baird.

He was married Jan. 16, 1915, to Minnie Toot, who survives, with a son, Donald C. Baird, at home; two grandchildren, Donna Jean and Ruth Ann; three brothers, Clark and Henry of Canfield and Earl of Greenfield; and a sister, Mrs. Effie Knauf of Canfield.

Funeral service will be held at 2
p. m. Thursday at the Arrighi-Pearce funeral home. Burial will be in the Canfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

the committee conferred here last night with the commissioners.

TWO SALEM YOUTHS
PUT ON PROBATION

Two Salem youths, indicted by the January grand jury in connection with the theft of a car from the Althouse garage, appeared before Judge Joel H. Sharp in common pleas court Monday and after changing their pleas to guilty, were placed on probation for five years
on the condition that they obey all laws and obtain steady employment.

The youths are Luther Elwonger, alias Luther Wright, and Donald Workman, who were also indicted
for breaking into the Althouse garage. The latter charge was dropped after they entered pleas of guilty to auto theft.

Three others indicted by the grand jury, and still awaiting trial
before the court, are:

Joseph DeMeo of Salem, charged with breaking into the Italian club here, and allegedly taking $60;
George Guidoo, of East Liverpool,
charged with the theft of a car
from the Pierce-Vinot Motor company, and Frank Lesick of Hanover township, charged with reckless driving.

ASKS UNIFIED
WAR COMMAND

Senator Norris would Place
Army, Navy In One Defense Department

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—A demand that the army and navy commands be unified in a single defense department was made today
by Senator Norris (Ind.-Neb.) as legislators heard encouraging reports of improving American strength in the south Pacific theater.

Laying a share of the blame on congress for the success of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Norris declared that the time had come to abolish the war and navy departments as such and to place the army, navy and air force under one defense department.

"Congress can't escape its part of the blame for this thing," the veteran Nebraska senator told reporters. "Long ago it should have streamlined our military organization. It ought now to provide for a unified command from the top down."

What was described as an encouraging report on American production and distribution of war
equipment was said to have been given to a senate military affairs
subcommittee yesterday by Maj.
Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the air force.

While committee members declined to discuss any of the details of Arnold's testimony on a pending $12,555,000,000 defense appropriation bill, some said they were highly gratified at the progress made not only in producing fighting and bombing planes but in transporting them to critical military areas, such as the Orient.

The pending bill, slated for committee approval today, would provide funds for 23,000 combat planes
and 10,000 trainers for a tremendous increase in the air forces.
General Arnold was reported to have expressed confidence that the training of new fliers would keep pace with the production of these new craft.

ARRANGE PROGRAM
FOR NEW MEMBERS

A reception for the 65 new members received by the First Baptist church during 1941 will be held at the church at 7:45 p. m. Wednesday. The program is sponsored by the United Bible class.

The pastor, Rev. S. T. Magann, will lead the devotionals, centered
on the theme, "The Home Behind the Church Home." Short talks will be given by H. W. Young, E. C.
Hammill, M. J. Buell and Richard Stirling.

Other program numbers will include an instrumental duet by Calvin Critchfield and Tommy Williams; vocal solos by Martha Jane Stirling, Ralph Cone, Deborah Beery and Mrs. Robert Talbot, a reading by Mrs. Ross Clay and a piano solo by Emma Bauman.

The committee in charge include
Mrs. J. W. Bennett and Mrs. Leland Taylor. Refreshments will be served. All members of the church are urged to attend.

Mosquito Ship Back in Su-

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—New stories of heroic action came today
from the Philippines while at sea
United States and Dutch forces drove after a battered Japanese invasion fleet in the Straits of Macassar.

The morning war department
communiqué, noting that there had been practically no ground fighting on the Batan peninsula in the last 24 hours, told of a "thrilling encounter" between two American pursuit planes and three Japanese dive bombers. The Americans shot down two of the foe and disabled
the third, without injury to themselves.

Also, in an unusual type of combat, two motor torpedo boats of General Douglas MacArthur's command placed themselves "directly in the line of flight" of a wave of Japanese bombers. Guns on the little boats hit three of the bombers,
and when last seen these three were smoking and losing altitude rapidly.

The navy department disclosed
late yesterday that the fleet's mile-minute mosquito torpedo boats
had paid a return visit to Subic bay
on Luzon island in the Philippines,
and sunk their second 5,000-ton enemy ship in those waters. The first was sent to the bottom in a daring raid on the same harbor last week.

Ohio's Rationing
Boards Get Sugar
and 'Recaps' Soon

CLEVELAND, Jan. 27.—Ohio's 600 rationing boards will put sugar
on their distribution list in about three weeks.

Rationing of the "comeback"
rubber strips used in recapping and retreading tires will come in about two weeks says Courtney Burton,
executive director of the state defense council.

The same boards, handling new tires, tubes and automobiles, will be in charge of other commodities
which may be restricted in the future.

Six hundred rationing boards in the state will do the actual job
of rationing the sugar, Burton
said. "In the county it will be the duty of each rationing administrator to handle his own program
with the assistance of an advisory board of three persons."

County chairmen may receive supplies of consumer rationing
cards by Feb. 15, said the director, but the exact date when sugar
rationing will start depends on the government printing office.

After conferring with Birkett L.
Williams, regional director of the Office of Price Administration, Burton said the state defense council would be the "final administrative entity" on all questions of Ohio sugar distribution.

The OPA office will be in charge
of policing, investigation of complaints and legal enforcement.

THREE ARRESTED

state patrol on a charge of reckless driving after his automobile hit the rear of another car on Route 62 at Westville at 3 p. m. yesterday. He was fined $10 and costs in the Sebring mayor's court.

Neither Breloach or the other
driver, Paul Reeves, 42, of Barber-

Raymond P. Reese, 33, of R. D. 2, Lisbon, charged by the state patrol
with failure to have a muffler on his truck, was fined $1 and costs by Mayor Culler at Washington-ville.

Ben Grennon, 38, Detroit, arrested

Presents Picture
Of Growing Might;
Tells Of Reverses

Points To American Troops and Bomber Planes; Declares Steps Are Being Taken to Aid Australia and New Zealand

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Prime Minister Churchill presented Britain today with a picture of growing allied might and unity today and demanded that parliament vote confidence
in his government.

Against his frank admission that bad news has come from the Pacific ocean battlefield, he told the house of commons:

United States troops which have landed in northern Ireland are only the vanguard of more to come;

United States fighter planes will help defend Britain
against air assault;

United States bombers will join the RAF in bombing
Germany;

Considerable reinforcements have reached the Malayan
front in the past week;

"We are taking many measures with the United States to increase the security of Australia and New Zealand, sending reinforcements, arms and equipment by the best routes."

"It is because I see the light gleaming behind the clouds and broadening upon our path," he said
at the end of his candid report of the good and evil in Britain's war
fortunes, "that I make so bold now
as to demand a declaration of confidence of the house of commons
as an additional weapon in the armory of the United Nations."

At the close of the war leader's speech, the house of commons began debate on Britain's war direction which Churchill will wind
up with a brief concluding speech
this week.

No Doubt Seen As to Result of Vote
The thunderous cheers that greeted his one hour and 24 minute accounting left no doubt how
the house of commons will vote
when it finally puts the question
of confidence to a test.

"I am the man that parliament
and the nation have got to blame for the general way in which they were served," the prime minister told the house of commons in a voice made husky by a heavy cold
as he summed up Britain's war fortunes in his first review since visiting the United States.

"And," he added, "I cannot serve them effectively unless, in spite of all that has gone wrong and is going to go wrong, I have their trust and their faithful aid."

However, not all that Churchill reported was of British reverses or
of dark prospects for the future.
In Libya, he said, an imperial army outnumbered two-to-one by General Erwin Rommel's German-

Italian forces has rewon Crete.

Now, he added, Britain's job is to hold reconquered Crete.

He called Britain's munitions
output "gigantic" with tank production doubled in the last six months and small arms output
more than doubled.

Britain's volume of planes is steadily rising, he said, and they are larger and better.

The prime minister said he had many discussions in Washington
with president Roosevelt on British-American war direction and that "in order to wage war effectively against Japan"

POST MORTEM ON SPILT MILK

It has been a long time since Pearl Harbor. The report of the presidential board of inquiry appointed to make a full and objective report on the disaster that occurred there the morning of Dec. 7 is like an echo out of the remote past.

Two things are accomplished, however, both important. First, it is made clear to the American public that there was no breakdown of precautionary judgment at the top of the government, something that has been discussed widely since Dec. 7. The secretary of state and the secretaries of war and the navy, together with the appropriate officers, were aware of imminent danger and did keep the proper officials at Pearl Harbor informed of their approaching danger. This was not a finding that Secretary of Navy Knox could make in his investigation immediately after the successful Japanese attack at Pearl Harbor; it is a finding that needed to be made, however, for the sake of public and military morale.

The second thing accomplished by the report is confirmation of the impression immediately after the event that the fault of the responsible officials at Pearl Harbor—Lieut. Gen. Walter C. Short and Admiral Husband E. Kimmel—lay wholly in the category of alertness. The army and navy at Pearl Harbor were capable of handling the attack on at least equal terms, according to the commission's report, had they been alert. They were not alert because in the opinion of supposedly qualified experts there was no possibility of the kind of attack that Japan launched.

In brief, the men charged with responsibility on the scene were guilty of the same fault that was almost universal at home; they took too much for granted. But in their case, of course, the fault cannot be excused; they have devoted their lives to protecting civilians from the consequences of militarism. It was not proper for them to have a civilian attitude toward the possibility of war with Japan. They were in charge of a vital outpost of national security. They had been warned to be prepared for trouble; they were not ready.

It is too late to do anything about Pearl Harbor, but not too late to do something about the mistake that was made there. It will be a long time before the United States is caught off-guard again.

PRODUCTION COMES FIRST

There is natural reluctance on the part of both unionists and spokesmen for management to take the lid off burning issues in the middle of an emergency. The unionists are trying to skirt the danger of a free-for-all inherent in any attempt to eliminate the schism between AFL and CIO. Management's spokesmen, on the other hand, are trying to freeze the status quo on the union shop issue, which threatens to flare up in negotiations between Steel Workers Organizing committee and independent steel producers.

The principle at stake in both situations is whether or not a war emergency is the proper time to try to settle arguments of long standing that couldn't be settled in normal times. It is a question of the propriety of using the extraordinary pressure of wartime to bear on issues too complicated to be settled in peacetime. There is an ethical decision to be made: If production comes first, should anything be permitted to interfere with production?

If the ghastly experience of France means anything, there is nothing but tragedy in store for any nation that tries to settle its internal disputes at the expense of its war effort against an external enemy.

WHALEBONE DISAPPEARED TOO

From coast to coast there is stunned silence as news is received of one sacrifice demanded by America's failure to assure itself of a rubber supply. What can anyone say about the prospect that girdles and other foundation garments built on the principle of elasticity will disappear?

A generation ago the subject would have been taboo, and a generation hence it may be meaningless. As a topic for jokes among men and breathless comparison of results among women, the girdle was stretched too far anyway. It was one of the products of an age in which many things weren't what they appeared to be. But there was this to be said for it: The illusion was more pleasing than that created by its predecessor, which almost became extinct when whalebone grew scarce and now would be threatened by the steel shortage. It begins to look as though there might be a conspiracy against American women.

—BUT NOT AT ANY COST

All parties concerned will be stepping on their own feet if they get mixed up in a squabble over issuing temporary permits enabling employers in certain circumstances to disregard Ohio's 45-hour work week law for women. There is no room for legitimate argument.

Permits issued by the state director of public relations are temporary, which means they can be recalled if employers do nothing to relieve the situations that made some kind of leeway necessary. The charge that it is all part of a drive to undo labor's legislative gains can be and has been answered by the Bricker administration. Those gains are worth defending, but not at any cost. That was one of the mistakes the French made.

The United States is not winning the battle of production by sticking to a 40-hour work week; it is paying heavily in overtime for extra effort. The 45-hour ceiling in Ohio on women's work may represent a maximum, but not a maximum so imperative that it can't be lifted temporarily to permit flexibility of operation.

One of our exchange graphers says that two lumps of ice in a glass of water is all the winter he can see for a time.

THE STARS SAY:

For Wednesday, January 28

IN SPITE of some rather disconcerting or threatening astral conditions this should be an exceedingly lively and progressive day, with the prospect of a sudden and definite pulling away from old static situations to swing into much action of a novel, unusual, or ingenious nature, bringing enduring results and increased possessions, although involving change, travel, fresh contacts, as well as new or original plans and strange objectives. There good auguries may be accompanied by the menace of fraud, loss, and secret sinister machinations.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate an unusually active and intriguing year, with many developments of a surprising, unlooked for and incomprehensible nature. An onrush of the new and novel, the bold and ingenious, come to the fore, demanding changes and rearranged programs and plans. There may be travel, fresh contacts, revised agreements, much correspondence and dealing with agencies. All this should spell progress, thrills and good fortune providing that vigilance, shrewdness and reasonable procedures circumvent sinister, secret and subtle attempts to ensnare, betray, ruin and defraud.

A child born on this day should have splendid talents probably seeking form in strange, extraordinary, original or unorthodox ways. Ability to write thrill or mystery yarns is shown, although it has depth and vision as well as imagination and strange fancies.

Probably many persons were fooled when it was said over and over, months ago, that there would be no A. E. F. in this war. Even so, they had been fooled often before. And, anyway, there is no place for bitterness in the present situation.

Remember Pearl Harbor, remember Wake, remember Guam, the one that sticks in the roof of the mouth. Add Manila to the list. And while remembering, it might be well to make good all boasts.

CHILBLAINS DISEASE OF BLOOD VESSELS

Warm Climate Is Best Answer, Says Clendenen

By LOGAN CLENDENEN, M. D.
IT SOMETIMES takes the medical profession a long time to get around to the scientific investigation of humble and common conditions. For instance, despite the fact that millions of people have ever, I do not believe anyone has ever investigated canker sores in the mouth scientifically. Only lately have we got around to finding out the cause and nature of the humble fever blister.

Dr. Clendenen will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

It has always been assumed that chilblain was a disease of the skin. Practically all the articles on the subject have appeared in journals of dermatology. A recent investigation, however, indicates that chilblain really belongs in the department of the heart specialist, at least that department which has to do with what is called peripheral vascular disease.

Peripheral Vascular Disease
The peripheral vascular diseases, such as Buerger's disease, produce changes in the extremities, particularly the toes and fingers due to the fact that the small blood vessels going to the parts become closed up with some inflammation and spasm due to cold or emotion.

Those who are familiar with chilblains recognize that the skin becomes discolored, livid, marbled, mottled, painful in varying degrees of severity. It has now been shown that by examining the skin and tissue underneath the chilblain area, the blood vessels show an inflammatory reaction which is very much like that in peripheral vascular disease.

We have known for a long time that cold is a potent factor in causing spasm and eventually inflammation of the coats of the blood vessels in peripheral vascular disease, and certainly cold is the largest factor in producing chilblain.

Chilblain Chilblain may be described as a painful area in the skin of the extremities (including the ears and the tip of the nose) presenting signs of obvious changes in the circulation, shown by mottling, purpling, etc. It is characterized also by:

1. The sudden appearance of the skin changes at the first approach of cold weather.
2. Spontaneous cure in the spring.
3. The chance that the condition may occur regularly for several years.
4. The fact that there is little or no tendency of the disease to spread to other parts of the body except the peripheries.
5. Itching may or may not be present.
6. The intensity of symptoms of the affected area varies with the temperature of the room and the elevation of the affected part.
7. The condition is not associated with any other disease.

With the knowledge of the nature of the disease, new methods of treatment may be expected to be followed by better results. Already the use of mecholy, which is used in treatment of peripheral vascular disease has been started on certain cases of chilblain with apparently very good results.

The advice always given to chilblain sufferers is to remain in a warm climate if possible and thus minimize the severity of the condition.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. M.:—"Is asthma or chronic bronchitis contagious?"

Answer: No danger of contagion.

M. N.:—"I have chronic gall bladder trouble and would like to know if the following would be injurious. They are not on my diet list—bananas, seedless grapes, unfermented grape juice and pineapple juice."

Answer: None of the foods you mention has any special effect on the gall bladder—either in health or in inflammation.

"THURSDAY'S CHILD" by VERA BROWN

FROM THE OLD RHYME: "THURSDAY'S CHILD HAS FAR TO GO"

SYNOPSIS

Life to lovely, young Leslie (Sunny) Richardson was just beginning in her foster-father's home when she could get away from it all. So, when opportunity in the form of Tom Hollister, a young college student and son of a wealthy New York family, appears, she grasps it. Tom and his friend, Jamie Hicks, had been touring in a trailer. One night they take Sunny to a dance and as they are about to return home, she stuns them with the announcement that she won't go back. Tom prevails upon her to change her mind but Richardson has locked the girl out, so the boys reluctantly agree to take her with them. Fearing Sunny's foster-father may have the police on their trail, they leave their trailer on a back road in Toledo to avoid detection, and head for the state line. In Bowling Green, Tom asks Sunny her mother's maiden name. Then he leaves the girl and Jamie in a restaurant and goes on a mysterious mission.

CHAPTER SEVEN

Jamie and Sunny sat in the little restaurant and waited, for what seemed to them—hours, Jamie managed to eat some ham and eggs, but Sunny was so scared her teeth clenched every time she tried to swallow the scalding coffee. She watched the door, expecting any moment to see state troopers come in to take her away.

Finally Tom came, jubilant. When you try to cross a Hollister, you're looking for trouble," he boasted. "Come on, we're going places."

A puzzled Jamie and Sunny followed Tom to the car. They drove down the street, turned right. "This is the place," he said as he pulled up before a big white house.

"Now what?" demanded Jamie. "Are we going to leave Sunny here?"

"Wait and see!" Tom laughed at his own little private joke. "But hurry up, we haven't any time to spare."

Jamie got out. Tom gave his hand to Sunny and waited until she was standing beside him. Then he declared, "We're going to get married."

The other youth and the girl stared at Tom as though he had lost his mind. "You're just kidding," Jamie said, his voice full of fear.

"I've got the license," he tapped his pocket. "It's set. Five minutes and we can snap our fingers at the law. We'll be over the Indiana state line. The cops there won't be looking for us, and we'll be on our way."

Sunny's voice was thin with fright. "I couldn't let you do that!"

Jamie was arguing. "You wouldn't dare do this!"

"Don't be ridiculous! The family will have to look after you then. You can get a divorce. It's as simple as anything." The grinning. "Then I won't have to go back to Princeton next year. We're summering at the beach, remember. Tell the old guy that. And Jamie, you live in Findley."

"I won't do it!" Jamie cried. Tom stalked up the walk with Jamie on one side protesting, Sunny on the other.

Even when he'd pushed the door bell, Jamie was arguing: "Your mother will kill me! You wouldn't dare do this!"

Tom grinned recklessly. "Listen I'm 21 today. Don't know of a better way to celebrate my birthday."

Afterward, Sunny could never remember much about the next ten minutes, or just what the old justice of the peace said to her. She remembered that he questioned them closely but Tom made all the answers. As the old man bent over a Bible, she noticed how his glasses slipped down on his nose, and how Jamie breathed loudly in a kind of silent protest to the whole affair.

Then it was over. Tom kissed her when the justice said he should. Tom's fraternity ring was on her finger. The justice and his wife wished them happiness and stood on the steps waving good-bye as they drove off.

"I know you'll be sorry, Tom," said the bride of five minutes.

"Nonsense!" said Tom. "What's there to be sorry about when we don't have to stay married? This is just to state off the police."

"Jamie was moaning gently, 'why did I let you? I promised your mother I'd look after you.'"

"Is that why she let you come along with me?" Tom demanded. "I thought there was a catch to it!"

They went back to pick up the trailer. Jamie got more and more panicky. "If I'd realized what you were up to," he kept saying.

"How could you have stopped me?" Tom retorted. "I'm 21."

"Wait till your father finds out!" Tom was silent for a moment; then said, "it will be pretty bad at first, but don't worry. Sunny and I can win the family over eventually."

At the trailer, Tom and Jamie went into a huddle. "I don't dare stay with you. I'm going to scam!" Jamie had suddenly galvanized into life. "Can you imagine the jam I'm going to be in?"

Tom laughed. "You'd think it was you who got married, the way you act. I'll take the rap!"

They finally drove on aimlessly toward Findley. Tom poo-pooed the idea of police now. "What can they do?" he demanded.

"Plenty," said Jamie. "Don't fool yourself! Your father will get the marriage annulled."

"Over my dead body!" Tom boasted as their car-and-trailer sped over back roads, and finally swung east at Jamie's insistence.

They stopped off in funny little towns to eat, but kept going steadily eastward. It was hot and uncomfortable. Sunny fell asleep during the course of the continual argument. Tom finally awakened her as they approached Akron. He and Jamie had been having a fearful row.

"I'm leaving Jamie out here. He's going back to New York. We'll go over into Pennsylvania and start north. It's pretty country there."

With considerable haste Jamie got his bags out of the trailer and got off at the outskirts of Akron. When the parting came, Tom said: "What will you tell mother when you get home? Somebody will tell her you're back."

"Won't tell her anything!" exclaimed Jamie viciously.

It was bad enough to have a grand summer broken up by Tom's madness without being put in the middle of what Jamie knew would be a fearful family convulsion.

"I'm sorry, Sunny," Jamie said as he shook hands.

"It's all my fault," she murmured bravely. "I must have been crazy." "Now, that's a complimentary remark, young woman, about a guy who's a good catch."

The last they saw of Jamie he was waiting forlornly for a bus, his bags piled around him.

War Halts "Exit" Of Covered Bridges In Columbiana County

Lack of Materials for New Spans Revives Pride In Picturesque Relics

Curtailed construction and rationing of supplies vital to defense have made Columbiana county conscious and equally proud of the covered bridges which dot its rural highways.

Relics of the "horse and buggy days"—an era which gradually is making a bid for a "return engagement"—the county's nine covered spans are rich in the picturesque touch of early American engineering.

Weatherbeaten to a point of antique beauty, the structures are in excellent state of preservation despite the fact they were constructed before records were kept in the county engineer's office, all of which date back 65 years.

Although the timbers in some of the structures have been renewed from time to time, many still carry the original white oak timbers and hand hewn wooden pegs.

The covered bridges were built to serve a two-fold purpose—primarily, as a cover to protect the timbers from the elements and, secondly, to shelter persons riding in open buggies or wagons in the event they were caught in a rainstorm.

Lovers' Rendezvous

However, when engineers designed the bridges, they unwittingly created a third purpose—that of a lovers' rendezvous.

Many a kiss was stolen as "Dobbin" sauntered "neath the shelters. However, lovers feeling secure from the prying eyes of the world were often abashed to find mischievous boys perched high in the rafters whose jeerings cut short their "sponging."

The covered sides of the bridges were put to still another use. Merchants in nearby cities, villages or communities often advertised their businesses with huge painted signs.

The remains of one such advertisement is found on a structure spanning Middle fork of Little Beaver creek at Teegarden, five miles north of here. Paint with age, the sign "plugs" the business of C. R. Phillips, Salem pharmacist prior to 1860.

Covered by a network of highways totaling 1,172 miles, the county averages one bridge for each mile. County Engineer Charles O. Snyder says, explaining that any culvert of more than 36 inches is listed as a bridge.

Largest Span

Largest of the covered bridges in the county is an 81 foot span over Cold run near its junction with West Fork creek on state route 518 in Wayne twp. The Middle Fork bridge at Teegarden is 66 feet and third in size is a 60 foot span over Middle Fork one and a half miles west of Leetonia.

West fork of Little Beaver creek, from the 81 foot span northwest to a point where it flows under U. S. route 30, six miles west of Lisbon, also boasts three other covered bridges of considerable length, with 52, 51 and 48 foot spans respectively.

Other relics of engineering of yesteryear include a 27 foot structure on Township Line rd north of Lisbon, spanning Mill-seat creek near the village's new water well, and a 22 foot span over Middle run in Elkrun twp.

There also is a small covered bridge spanning Bull creek on a private road leading to a farm south of New Waterford in Unity twp and an old, open, wooden king-pin bridge just north of Lisbon in Center twp.

Mr. Snyder adopted a renewal program in reconditioning many of these old structures, replacing worn timbers with new, steel fall when the demand for steel for defense became essential.

One bridge southwest of Lisbon in Center twp. recently was repaired with timbers cut by the highway department in clearing

RELICS OF A FORGOTTEN ERA, Columbiana county's covered bridges are being restored to their original usefulness. Shown here are three of the nine dotting the county.

UPPER LEFT: Covered spans probably were the nation's original billboards. This one, a 66 foot structure at Teegarden, carried the advertisement of an early Salem pharmacist.

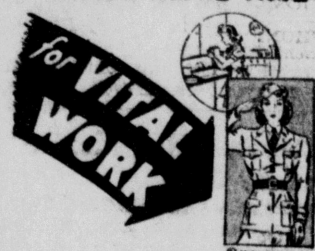

UPPER RIGHT: One of the county's larger bridges, spanning West Fork creek on state route 518 in Wayne twp.

LOWER: The county's largest covered span—81 feet long. The bridge crosses Cold run on a county road between routes 518 and 30, six miles west of Lisbon.

Miss Verna Brown's Wedding To Be Solemnized February 8

The wedding of Miss Verna Louise Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. Brown of S. Broadway, to Kurt G. Svenson of Cleveland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Svenson of Jamestown, N. Y., will be an event of Sunday, Feb. 8.

The marriage will be solemnized by Rev. H. L. Miller of Sandusky in the Christian church here, where he was formerly a pastor. Rev. C. E. Evans will assist.

The bride-elect has chosen her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lowell Brown, as her attendant and Raymond Johnson of Jamestown, N. Y., will act as best man.

Members of the immediate families and a few friends will attend the ceremony.

Program Enjoyed by Garden Study

Garden Study club members, meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Glenn Broomall on S. Lincoln ave., with Mrs. Vernon Broomall as associate hostess, enjoyed a short program and tea following the business session.

Plans were discussed for a cooking school to be held as a benefit, with Mrs. Arthur Lind as chairman. The date will be announced later.

A feature of the program was an interesting paper, "Oddities in the Plant World," given by Mrs. Elmer Kerr.

A centerpiece of yellow flowers decorated the tea table. Mrs. Alfred Fitch, president of the club presided.

The Feb. 23 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Rowand on Homewood ave. with Mrs. Lind as associate hostess.

Music Club Convenes in Columbiana

American ballads were sung by members of the Music Study club at the home of Mrs. F. E. Griffin in Columbiana Monday afternoon, featuring a program on American music.

Mrs. Frederick Kirkbride, president, acted as accompanist and Mrs. George E. Jones led the group singing of the familiar melodies. A buffet lunch followed the meeting at which Miss Emma Kenrich was associate hostess. The table was attractively arranged with a crystal bowl of white gladioli and ferns as centerpiece. Mrs. C. B. Clapp of Columbiana was welcomed as a guest.

The group will have its annual business meeting and casserole supper at 6:30 p. m. Feb. 9 at the home of Mrs. L. B. Harris on T. Third st. Miss Hilda Franke will be associate hostess.

Three Links Members Have Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Balford B. Dixon were welcomed as new members of the Three Links Social club of the Odd Fellows at a coverdinner in the hall last night.

Tables were attractively decorated with patriotic favors and appointments in red, white and blue. The door prize went to James Probert. Games were enjoyed during the evening.

The committee in charge included Mr. and Mrs. Austin I. Getz, Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers and Mrs. Alida Moore.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 23.

Daughters of Emmanuel Meet Wednesday

Mrs. Simon Theiss will have charge of the program on "Lutheran World Action" at a meeting of the Daughters of Emmanuel in the Emmanuel Lutheran church at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

All members are asked to attend to transact important business. Hostesses will be Mrs. John Schmidt, Mrs. O. A. Rutter and Mrs. W. J. Seeman.

The dance, sponsored by the Phalanx fraternity, will raise additional funds for the fight against infantile paralysis. P. A. Presco is county chairman of the March of Dimes paralysis fund program now under way.

NOVEL REVIEWED BY MRS. GUY BYERS

The best-selling novel, "Young Ames" by Walter D. Edmunds was reviewed by Mrs. Guy E. Byers as the second in the Timely Topics program at the Methodist church last night. The series, which will close with an address by Prof. Louis A. Deser of Youngstown college on Feb. 23, is sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the church.

Edmunds, whose "Drums Along the Mohawk" was also a story of a period in early American life, has told the story of the rise and development of American shipping through his chronicle of the life and success of "Young Ames," a boy who rose from a minor position in an American shipping firm in New York to that of a partner in the enterprise.

The burning ambition of the young man to become a partner of the firm, his realization of the desire, his romance with the daughter of the firm owner and his own success are interwoven with a picture of the American shipping industry in which American shipping grew by leaps and bounds.

Mrs. Byers was presented by Mrs. E. T. Trebilcock following a short program of organ music by Homer S. Taylor. The interesting review was heard by a large audience.

REDUCE SHOPPING COSTS, CITY URGED

Cui Delivery Service, Carry Packages, Governor Bricker Asks

Gov. John W. Bricker, chairman of the Ohio State Council of Defense, today called upon all citizens of Salem to join in a statewide campaign of carrying packages from retail stores, in order to conserve existing tire supplies in the interest of the war effort, and to cut down the drain on materials needed by the armed forces.

The governor requests that all shoppers carry their packages wherever humanly possible, and asks that delivery services of stores be curtailed. This, he said, will make possible a huge saving in badly needed rubber supplies.

In a special memorandum to the Salem Business Bureau Gov. Bricker said:

"To enlist the enthusiastic cooperation of the consuming public in this effort, I am issuing a public request to every citizen to carry his or her packages. Stores which offer delivery services must immediately cut this service to the minimum, and the public must radically revise its pre-war shopping habits."

In addition to requesting that stores display special posters asking the public to carry packages and to place stickers on packages which customers agree to carry, Gov. Bricker made the following recommendations to stores which offer delivery service:

"1. Cut number of store deliveries to the bone. I am informed that in certain cities where, before Pearl Harbor, the stores made two regular city deliveries daily, this schedule has been cut to three single deliveries each week."

"2. Eliminate the wasteful practice of special deliveries to single customers. Some communities may find it necessary to make exception under unusual emergency conditions, but if a firm stand is taken by the retail merchants of the state, I am sure customers will cooperate. They will appreciate the wasteful use of tires in these special deliveries."

"3. Eliminate all store practices which require extra delivery service, such as delivery of merchandise on approval and the 'pickup' of merchandise to be returned to the stores."

The governor's appeal to do everything possible to conserve war materials now being consumed in non-essential deliveries is in line with the official joint request made from Washington by Dan A. West, director of the Consumers division of the Office of Price Administration, and Lessing J. Rosenwald, chief of the Bureau of Industrial Conservation of the Office of Production Management.

Program Is Given By Leetonia Class

LEETONIA, Jan. 27.—The Willing Workers class of St. Paul's Lutheran church, taught by Mrs. H. C. Brillhart, was entertained at the church parlors Monday evening with Mrs. Alvin S. Fire, Mrs. Clarence Barnes, Mrs. William Floding and Mrs. Alfred Lee, associate hostesses.

Mrs. Ralph Kennedy had charge of the devotionals. Roll call was answered to by your favorite hymn. During the business meeting, plans were made for a chickenpie supper on Feb. 5. Towels were hemmed for the home defense program. The hostesses served lunch.

Midway grange will hold a benefit dance at their hall, south of town Saturday evening. The proceeds will be given to the Red Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Souder and children Ray and Marilyn of Columbiana visited Mr. and Mrs. Alvin S. Fire and family Sunday.

The St. Paul's Lutheran church council members and their wives were entertained last Friday evening at the parsonage by Rev. and Mrs. T. P. Laughner and daughters. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holloway; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Fire and daughters, Dorothy Jean and Wilma; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cope; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stiller; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. The Problems Of Rationing

Administrator Discusses Methods and Reasons, Calling for Co-operation of Public

BY JOHN T. BURNS

This is the first of a series of articles on rationing and associated problems.

One of the important duties of the rationing boards is to acquaint the public with the importance of conserving rubber. The public at large seems very much interested in the rationing program, particularly in the tire rationing line at the present time.

A number of persons are still unacquainted with the regulations, however, and also many seem to question the necessity for such regulations.

The word "tire" has been eliminated from the present setup.

OHIO FARMS READY FOR ALL-OUT WAR

"Will Operate Without Profit, If Necessary", Is Consensus

Salem: "This is a different day and the farmer knows it. His country comes first now."

Artie Boram, farmer near Beaver, Jackson, county: "All we ask is a fair price, but we'll go ahead whether we get it or not."

Governor Buser, farmer near North Canton: "The American farmer doesn't care for profits so much as to win the war. We know if we lose, the prices we get now won't mean a thing."

Jenkin A. Alban, Oak Hill: "Profits are secondary. We're out to win this war. The government will get co-operation from the farmer, don't worry about that."

Louis Bromfield, Richland county farmer-author, was the featured speaker of farmers' week today. Sessions continue through Friday.

Karl Brandt, Stanford university economist, told the farmers yesterday to look for a four to five-year war involving 10,000,000 men.

Brandt, a former professor at the University of Berlin, said: "We entirely underestimate the Axis. Their production as well as ours will continue to increase. It will be 1944 before we are able to take the initiative in this war and longer than that before we attain supremacy in machines and men."

Fayette county farmers yesterday made a distinctive showing in the corn judging.

Frank E. Coe, Jeffersonville, showed the grand champion 10 ears of open pollinated corn and took the reserve and first premium awards. Clark W. Coe of Jeffersonville took the second and fifth premiums and Roger L. Coe, of Jeffersonville, took third.

John L. Cannon & Son of Washington, D. C. had the grand champion corn hybrid seed sample and Paul Shepard of New Holand had the best 30 ears, product of hybrid.

CHURCHILL ASKS CONFIDENCE VOTE

Presents Picture of Growing Might; Also Tells Of Reverses

In Washington called combined staff committees.

"We must also concert together in close collaboration with Stalin and Chiang Kai-Shek," he said.

Referring to his United States visit, Churchill declared:

"I established with President Roosevelt relations of comradeship and friendship."

"We can say anything to each other, however painful."

"Mr. Roosevelt's last words to me were 'we will fight this through to the bitter end, whatever the cost may be.'"

"There is no question of regarding the Pacific war as a secondary operation," Churchill asserted.

"The United States navy is linked in the most intimate union with the admiralty, both in the Atlantic and the Pacific."

Concluding his speech, he said: "Although I feel the broadening swell of victory and liberation bearing us and all tortured peoples onwards safely to the final goal, I must confess to feeling the weight of the war upon me even more than in the tremendous summer days of 1940."

Therefore, he said, he felt entitled to ask the house of commons for its encouragement.

The Complacent Arab and the Creeping Camel!

You know the story. The complacent Arab first allowed the camel to put his head in the tent. Then his shoulders. Finally the camel pushed all the way in . . . crowded the Arab out into the cold.

In that way, too, a free people can allow one little restriction to follow another . . . until freedom is crowded out. How can we avoid it? The answer is simple: The people must know what is happening. They must have a free press to tell them the facts.

In Germany, Hitler muzzled the press . . . signed up Goebbels. Then when a restrictive law was passed, no newspaper could criticize. The press HAD to say: "You will like this fine new law! It is good for the state!" And the people believed it. For that was all the news they had. So they passed into POLITICAL slavery . . .

But that wasn't all! Hitler, for example, brought out a motor car. He told the press to say it was "The Best That Could Be Made." Competition was chained and muzzled. The public read only Hitler's claims. This way, and in a thousand others, they lost their right to choose. So they lost their ECONOMIC freedom, too!

Remember, a dictatorship cannot live with a free press, a democracy cannot live without it. FACTS are the bedrock under your democratic right of deciding what to do, where to go, what to buy, how to vote.

Don't imagine the wide Atlantic safeguards freedom of the press in America! For the REAL danger is right here . . . in COMPLACENCY . . . in taking this freedom too much for granted.

The publisher can't do the job alone. It is YOUR responsibility, too! For it is your freedom, as well as ours, which MUST be protected!

"But," you ask, "just what can I do?"

To begin with, read your newspaper more carefully than ever. It brings you the facts. Think about what you read. Watch for restrictions (beyond those really necessary in time of emergency), restrictions not only on the press, but on ANY of your freedoms. Should you spot one, talk to your friends about it! Wake them up, too! Write to your editor! Be an active citizen!

For, if you are complacent, democracy may be crowded out. Remember the Arab and the Camel!

In Germany, Italy, Russia, Japan, a government agency decides what the people shall read and hear. Not so in America. Do your part to preserve the American way of life.

"Letter from New Mexico" Heard by Club

A highlight of the Salem Garden club program yesterday at the library assembly room was a paper, "Letters from New Mexico," by Mrs. Stanton Heck. The paper was written from letters from Mrs. Heck's daughter, Mrs. Harold Braman, whose husband is a naval attaché in Mexico.

From her daughter's letters Mrs. Heck described the climate and all the beauties of the country and the customs of the people, speaking of the abundance of gardenias, camellias and orchids, so costly here but which may be had for very low cost there. She described the poinsettias which bloom in yellow, red and white with blossoms 18 inches in diameter on stems a yard long. The profusion and wealth of plant and floral life was described as well as the Mexican customs and governmental ceremonies, many of which Mr. and Mrs. Braman attend.

The program included also a paper on "Garden Books to Read" by Mrs. L. P. Koenrich and "Fireside Gardening for Our Gardens-to-be" by Mrs. Earl Rogers. Mrs. Koenrich named the books "Backyard Farmer," "New Gardens for Old" and "Garden Making and Keeping" as valuable aids for gardening enthusiasts and read interesting excerpts from each. Mrs. Rogers discussed many of the all-American prize winning plants and the new plants developed this year and spoke of the importance of buying tested and prize-winning seeds to insure growing results.

Mrs. C. R. Votaw was program chairman

Mrs. F. O. Heston, retiring secretary and Mrs. Howell Williams, retiring treasurer, gave the reports for the year while Mrs. H. E. Stiver, retiring club head, was in charge. Mrs. Stanton Heck presided at the final business meeting in the absence of Mrs. Burt Leeper, new president.

Calcutta Girl Bride of Salem Man

The marriage of Miss Harriet Mae Brian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Brian of Calcutta, and Ray Arthur Enriken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren C. Enriken of Salem, was solemnized at 10 a. m. Friday at the Presbyterian manse in Calcutta. Rev. Milton M. Soos officiated.

Miss Goldie Wolfe and Robert Atkins, Misses Jean and Mary Engles were present at the ceremony. The bride wore a beige and black flannel ensemble and corsage of red roses. Miss Wolfe wore gold with brown accessories and a corsage of Tulleman roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. The couple left for a trip along the Great Lakes. After Feb. 5 they will make their home here. He is employed by the Electric Furnace Co. as a draftsman.

News OF THE Day IN Pictures

Malta, British Mediterranean Base, Axis Target

Will the island of Malta, British base in the Mediterranean off Italian Sicily, be the next target for Adolf Hitler's all-out attack? Malta, raided hundreds of times by Axis bombing planes since the war began, has a new commander, Vice Admiral Ralph Leatham, commander of the East Indies station, who succeeds Vice Admiral Wilbraham T. R. Ford. At the top is a view of the harbor at Valetta, principal city, and below, a recent Axis bombing attack on the island. Many of the historic fortifications on the island were erected by the crusading knights of St. John.

British Convoy Runs Gauntlet of Nazi Air Attack

The British Admiralty released this photo, showing an actual attack on a British convoy in the Mediterranean by Axis aircraft. The three waterspouts mark the explosion of heavy bombs in the water. British ship behind the bursts appears to be a destroyer. Ship at left is a battleship. The caption said the navy brought the convoy through successfully.

Carroll Club Quintet Has "Off" Night, Bows To Saxons, 22-14

CADETS TRIP FAST BUCKEYES FOR 8TH STRAIGHT VICTORY

Trades Class Dusts Presbys
By 22-20; Tonight's
Games Postponed

The Carroll Club cagers in the Class A loop suffered a bad night in their game against the Saxons on the Memorial Building court last night and as a result were the victim of a 22-14 upset loss. The Carrolls just didn't get the breaks as they put in dozens of shots only to see them roll out.

They played a fair brand of defensive ball but could do nothing with the ball when they got it. Bob "Buck" Ritchie and Jimmie Klean, former High school stars who are usually good for several points a game suffered worst of all, with Ritchie getting only three points, all on foul shots, and Klean failing to crash the box score. Bill Fisher put in six points to top the weak Carroll attack while Schuster looked good for the winners with 11 markers.

In a Class B battle, the Cadets—another Carroll outfit—had a close call and barely edged the Buckeyes, 22-20. For the winners, it was Jimmy Rogers who featured in the scoring column. Rogers slashed the cords for four field goals and a pair of charity tosses for a 10 point total. Bill Segesman and Dick Boughton paced the well-balanced Buckeye attack with six and five markers respectively.

In the other game on the evening's slate, the Presbys, who played a great ball game against the Cavaliers last week, bowed to the Trades Class in another close tilt, 22-22. Ralph Landwert, string-bean pivot man for the Trades Class, copped individual scoring honors as he flipped in three buckets and five free throws. Don Beech paced the Presbys in scoring with six points. All but one player took part in the Presbys' scoring while every member of the Trades Class five got in on the point-making.

Joe Kelley, manager of the Memorial building, announced today that there will be no city league games at the Memorial building tonight because of the Salem-Youngstown South basketball on the local high school hardwood. They will be played tomorrow night instead.

Daylight Saving Favored
By Semi-Pro Baseballers

WICHITA, Kas., Jan. 27.—Daylight saving time will keep the blackout away from semi-pro games this summer.

Ninety per cent of the games in semi-pro leagues are played at twilight and it's usually a race with nightfall to get in the required innings.

Ray Dumont, president of the National Semi-Pro association, says the extra hour of daylight this summer will permit nine innings of leisurely ball instead of the usual seven.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 27.—That 484-point basketball record set in the 1937-38 season by Toronto's Tom Kinkade was definitely on its way out today—with "Lefty" Nelson, senior forward of the Washington Township team of Nauvoo (Scioto county) ready to climb upon the throne.

The southpaw adding machine of the southern Ohio Class A team, which has won 19 of its 20 starts, has racked up 480 points in 20 contests, and has five tilts to go. He missed Kinkade's high-average mark by one-fifth of a point per game, Tom getting his 484 in 20 games, while Nelson has 480 for that many contests.

In last week's scrap with South Webster, Nelson needed 27 points to tie Kinkade's high-average record, but he settled for 23 as his squad took a 54 to 27 win. In the last 55 games Washington Township has been beaten twice, losing to Waterloo's Wonders a year ago, and dropping a one-point to once-beaten Portsmouth East this campaign.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(Wide World)—Laugh of the week: There's nothing wrong with racing that words won't cure, according to Herbert B. Swope's report to his fellow racing commissioners at the Miami meeting. "The word 'handicapper' with it a very unfortunate connotation," Swope explained. "There is a low commercial sound in which the implication is very definitely 'handling for your own benefit'." Well? When Bill Terry turned over the Giants' reins to Mel Ott he didn't volunteer any special advice but said "It's your club. If you want to know anything or want me at the training camp I'm available any time." P. S.: Terry will be in camp for at least the first few weeks.

Figuring Out Figures
After you've piled up enough comparative scores to prove that ABC Normal could beat Minnesota's football team 99-0, try this one: On Jan. 14, Loyola of Baltimore beat Western Maryland in an overtime basketball game, 39-38. With in the next week each one beat Catholic U. by the same score, 50 to 39, and the half time score in each game was 26-20.

Odds—and Some Ends
Johnny Risko, the old rubber man, tried to join Gene Tunney's corps of navy athletic directors but found he wasn't eligible. Probably neglected to have himself retreaded. That ordinary-sized guy who looks lost among the West Texas basketballers is Jerry Main, sports ed. of the Amarillo News. You can count Dick Bartell out as a possible manager at Jersey City. He's wanted on the Giants because he can play either shortstop or third and is in no danger of being drafted.

Today's Guest Star
Si Burick, Dayton, (O.) News: "In his anticipation of that salary reduction—whether it's cut or slashed—Lombardi has proved that he can see farther than the end of his own nose. And that's the seeing a long way, chums; a long, long way."

BUCK FIVE BLASTS MAROONS BY 63-25

COLUMBUS, Jan. 27.—Ohio State's in-and-out basketball team soundly thumped Chicago's cellar-dwelling cagers, 63 to 25, last night as the Bucks' chances of advancing from the lower ranks of the Big Ten race appeared slim today.

The Ohioans entertain Purdue Saturday. Purdue grudgingly yielded its second place berth behind Illinois to Minnesota, and the prospects of defeating the Boilermakers seemed none too rosy despite the showing against the Windy City last night.

Although Ohio State dominated throughout and led 25-17 at half-time, play was slow until substitutes were injected freely in the second half and stepped up the pace.

Jack McLain, Buck forward, was high scorer with 13 points.

The victory, State's third in seven conference starts, left the Bucks third from the bottom in the standings. It was Chicago's seventh loop defeat without a win. Michigan's loss to Indiana kept the Wolverines in the penultimate niche.

Minnesota, back in second place in the Big Ten basketball race, has played eight of its 15 games. Next on the Gophers' schedule is Michigan, whom they play Saturday night at Ann Arbor. After that comes eight-place Ohio State—and then the Purdue Boilermakers again.

The affair last night, which dropped Purdue into third place, was Minnesota's game all the way. Indiana moved into a tie with Northwestern and Iowa for fifth place by lambasting Michigan, 64-36.

Nelson isn't the only high-counter in the scholastic realm. Sylvester Goedde of Vaughnsville, with a 32-point spurge against Gliboa last week, hoisted his 11-game total to 317 points—an uncanny average of almost 29 per game.

Nagy Averaging 20.6
Johnny Van Horn, five-foot five-inch star of the Rosewood team which has dropped seven of its 15 games, scored 50 against Greene Township for the season's high mark, boosting his average to 22.2. Fritz Nagy of Akron South, playing in the state's stiffest competition, came up with 17 and 26-point totals in two starts last week, giving him 248 for 12 games, an average of 20.6, while Gregory of Vinton Rural ran up 318 points in 13 games for a 24.5 mark. Other high scorers last week included Charley Myer of Tuscarawas, 26; Burton of Barnesville, 25; Joe White of Magnolia, 30; Reese of Pandora, 26, and Carl Creamer of Jeffersonville, 27, for 288 in 14 games, an average of 20.7.

The Class A champion, Martins Ferry, won its 11th of the season and its 28th in a row by beating Wheeling, W. Va., but stayed a couple of games behind Toledo Central and Akron North, which soared on their 13th victories. Union Furnace, king for a week in Class B, was knocked out of the top spot by Gibsonville, turning the lead over to Ridgeway of Hardin-Logan counties and Amesborn of Athens county, winners of 14 straight.

Along with Union Furnace, such powerhouses as Defiance, Lake Township of Wood County, Wyndham of Portage county, and Hicksville were defeated for the first time. On the other hand, Medina snapped a 21-game losing streak extending over two seasons, beating Wellington, 26-14, while Hartwell won its first Millcreek loop game in four years, upsetting league-leading Wyoming, 25-21.

Salem Win Called "Oddity"
On the oddity side: Tommy Stewart of Ironton and Rickel of Blanchester tossed wrong-way baskets for opponents; Losers claimed "foul," declaring the clocks had been stopped or time had run out as Salem beat Youngstown Rayen, 36-35; Tiffin Calvert beat Marion St. Mary, 27-26, with last-second baskets; and a Lima grocer who thought Central could beat South (he was wrong) submitted to a fresh egg barrage to pay off a wager.

Hogan Wins Golf Event At Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Benny Hogan, the best golfer in the country for money, marbles or chalk the last two years, is well on his way to making it three terms in a row.

In the 1942 golfing gold rush, Benny the par-buster already has baked out two claims and made them pay. His latest feat was a mud-splattered victory in the San Francisco Open. He won $1,000 first money with a nine-under-par 279.

For 72 holes Hogan battled a soggy, slippery course to lead the way from start to finish. Less than three weeks before he won in the Los Angeles Open, worth $3,500 plus an extra $1,000 from the play-off gate receipts with Jimmy Thomson.

In between the wins, he picked up extra change in a two-way tie for second place in the Oakland tournament. His total winnings for the first three PGA-sanctioned tournaments is $4,775.

Hogan, former Fort Worth, Tex. caddy, is the candy kid of Hershey, Pa., now and as usual, the one to beat in every tournament. He undoubtedly will be the favorite to knock over the 39 hole event at the Rancho Santa Fe, last on the California leg of the winter circuit, this week end.

Cage Score—7 to 6
BIG SPRING, Tex.—It sounds more like football, but Spring defeated Sweetwater, 7 to 6, in a high school basketball game recently.

And a three-minute overtime period was required.

BOWLING RESULTS

The three leading teams in the American league took it on the nose in games on the Masonic alleys last night.

Peoples Lumber lost three to Fitzpatrick's and dropped to a virtual tie with Fernengels, who dropped two to Leases. Third-place Demings lost two to Firestones, who this edged nearer third position. American Laundry took two from the Electric Furnace.

Joe Martin of Fitzpatrick's was hot all evening, registering a 630 series on games of 208, 199, 223. McCaskey of the Electric Furnace posted a 231 and Bill Juergens of Firestones chalked up a 220.

Their was action galore last night in the Quaker City league bowling as the loop-leading Althouse five clashed with the cellar-dwelling Hawk Motors. In the first game, the Althouse team got hot and with three members of the team rolling 200 games and another hitting a 198, they fired a 965 game to open their bid for a three game victory.

In the second game, Biggins got red hot and rolled off a 278 game, breaking the record held jointly by Charley Huffer and Sid Beechy, with 257's. The Hawks won the game on the strength of Biggins' game but failed to cop the third. Earl Grate and Haessly topped Althouse's with 210 games while Willis hit games of 201 and 200.

The pace settlers as they dropped two to the Masons. Not a single member of the usually potent Arcos crashed the "500" mark. The Golden Eagles and Capel's, third and fourth place outfits, were outclassed last night as the Eagles suffered two losses to Bliss, and Capel's were shutout by Gonda's. H. Walker hit a 205 for the Golden Eagle five.

In other matches on the Grate alleys, Coy's drubbed the Quaker Orphans the games and the Lape Hotel copped a pair from the Mullins Cutting Room.

P. Ward of the Cutting Room rolled a neat 228 his second game while England of Coy's fired a 201 also in his second game.

In a special match rolled on the Columbiana alleys between the Salem Termites and the Sigler Florists of Columbiana Sunday, the locals dropped a 2575 to 2554 match. Jim Armstrong and Charley Huffer were high for the Salem team rolling a 211 and 200 respectively while Weikart was the lone Columbiana kiegler to hit the "200" circle. He rolled a 200 even.

Lands 98-Pound Marlin
MIAMI, Fla.—First entry of a white marlin catch in the $10,000 greater Miami fishing tournament was made by Howard Jacobs of New York.

Jacobs pulled in a 98-pounder. This compares with a 161-pound white marlin landed by L. F. Hopper of Essex Falls, N. J., in the 1938 tournament, still the largest on record for the annual event.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Wheat and corn opened as much as a cent a bushel higher today in a continuation of yesterday's advance based chiefly on prospects of final passage of the price control bill by the senate. Within a few minutes, however, prices backed down to around the previous closing levels.
Wheat opened 1/2 to 1 cent higher, May $1.33 1/4-1.34 1/4, July $1.35 1/4-1/2.
Corn started 1/4-1/2 higher, May 90 1/2-91, July 92 1/2-93 1/2. Oats, however, started 1/4 lower while soybeans were unchanged. Rye opened 1/2 to 1 cent higher.

ish air minister, who welcomed them.

So great was the secrecy surrounding the Atlantic crossing that only a small band of curious on-lookers was on hand as the big transports were warped alongside the quays.

When military bands struck up "The Star Spangled Banner", however, a ragged cheer went up from the shore, and like wildfire the electrifying cry ran through the town:

"The Yanks are here!" Spectators crowded to the streets as the troops marched out of the dockyard after the brief official greeting, swinging along to the stirring strains of "Marching Through Georgia" with the Stars and Stripes fluttering proudly at the head of the column.

The doughboys looked grim as they paraded through town, full packs on their back and tin hats on their heads.

Exchange Greetings
Grins came to their faces, however, as they broke marching formation to entrain for their encampments and they exchanged friendly greetings with Britishers and Irishmen who crowded close to them.

While most of the doughboys hailed from the mid west and many had never before been aboard any vessel larger than river steamer, they seemed to be taking in stride the excitement attendant upon their trans-Atlantic voyage.

"When do we eat?" was the question that seemed uppermost in their minds.

They learned quickly that they would get what the British call "heavy breakfast and two heavy meals" a day. British soldiers get one heavy meal and three light ones daily.

Plans for the disposition to be made of the American troops were not announced, but it was assumed that training—which began only a year ago for some—would be resumed with emphasis placed upon tactics developed by British soldiers who already have been action on the continent and elsewhere.

Most of the Americans appeared anxious to come to grips with the enemy.

First Class Private Milburn Henke 22, of Hutchinson, Minn., son of a German immigrant to the United States, was the first soldier ashore. He proudly displayed a postcard from his father saying: "Give 'em hell."

Though the Atlantic crossing was described laconically by the navy as "routine" it was an exciting adventure for this correspondent and Harrison Roberts, Associated Press photographer accredited to the AEF.

The ever-present danger of enemy submarines, frequent boat drills, the sight of protecting warships wallowing through the waves and the eerie nights when the convoy swept on without a light showing all combined to add to the air of excitement.

Tough, Junior, But You Can't Get Bike; Borrow Your Pop's

COLUMBUS, Jan. 27.—Well, Junior, it appears that you might have to do without that new bicycle for a while. But maybe Pop will let you ride his.

Ohioans are flocking to bicycles to save automobile tires, a survey by the Associated Press showed today, and most of the purchases are for adults.

A Cleveland dealer reported he had made numerous sales to husbands and wives. Another said few bikes were available for juveniles and he expected no additional stocks soon.

Leading cycle and sporting goods stores throughout the state reported January sales of bicycles as much as 500 per cent heavier than in the same month last year.

Without exception, dealers were concerned about their inability to replenish their stock because of production restrictions.

A Columbus dealer said that bicycle manufacturing operations were curtailed about 48 per cent by priorities and that the demand for wheels for transportation to work was making the situation acute.

Some dealers reported greatest demand for light-weight bikes and said these orders were hard to fill.

Some difficulty was anticipated in the replacement of tires on balloon tire model bikes.

A new "Victory" model bike, stripped of chrome trimming and gadgets, was expected to reach the market about April 1, the normal beginning of the bicycle season.

UNCLE SAM CALLS FOR SCRAP METAL

Junk Yards Are Told To Produce In Month, "Or Else"

Junk dealers interviewed, Jones said, were required to report within a week that they had begun to move steel to mills.

Although the government has fixed a $1950 top on No. 1 grade scrap steel baled and delivered to steel mills, some junk dealers are using the shortage to get higher prices for lower grades and for unprepared scrap at the yards, Jones said.

George Sturm, president of Armco, said at Middletown that the price of steel the mill bought at junkyards to bales and haul at its own expense rose one-third in the last three months.

The current price paid by mills for scrap at junk yards will be paid automobile "graveyard" owners whose stock is requisitioned for mills by the government, Jones said. Sturm said this price was now $12 a ton at the Middletown plant.

Although representative Ohio auto wreckers in a meeting at Columbus last week agreed to scrap immediately all cars of 1932 model or older to "help keep open hearth furnaces going," some dealers, Jones said, are keeping it to sell part-by-part to old car owners.

Major Rasmussen said a junked automobile will provide about 1,500 pounds of metal, or enough to make one light cannon, ten .50-caliber machine guns, or a 120
